

Contents

Preface	ix
Acknowledgements	xv
1. Disciplinary cultures, texts and interactions	1
The importance of academic writing	2
The social creation of knowledge	5
Disciplinary cultures	8
Texts as social interaction	12
Approaches to academic interactions	14
2. Academic attribution: interaction through citation	20
Citation and intertextuality: some preliminaries	20
Citation signals	22
An overview of academic citation	24
Hard v soft knowledge and community practices	29
Contextualisation and the construction of knowledge	30
Agency and epistemology in citations	33
Ownership and membership in disciplinarity	34
Ethos and evaluation: the use of reporting verbs	37
Conclusions	40
3. Praise and criticism: interactions in book reviews	41
The book review genre	42
Evaluation in reviews	44
Dimensions of praise and criticism	46
Disciplinary differences in evaluations	49
Structural patterns of praise and criticism	52
Mitigation of evaluative acts	55
Conclusions	61

4. Speaking as an insider: promotion and credibility in abstracts	63
About abstracts	64
Texts, informants and methods	66
A move-structure classification of abstracts	67
Move-structure and rhetorical persuasion	68
Disciplinary differences in abstract structures	70
Claiming significance in abstracts	75
Claiming insider credibility	78
Evolving patterns: 1980–1997	81
5. Priority and prudence: the scientific letter	85
The letter genre	85
What are hedges and boosters?	87
Forms and frequencies of hedges and boosters	90
Circumspection and uncertainty: hedging in knowledge-making	91
Priority and solidarity: boosters in significance negotiation	97
Putting it together: hedges and boosters in letters	101
6. Constructing an expert identity: interactions in textbooks	104
The textbook genre	104
Audience and metadiscourse	109
A model of metadiscourse	110
An overview of textbook metadiscourse	113
Making connections: patterns of textual interactions	116
Constructing a writer persona: interpersonal metadiscourse	122
Negotiating expert status: some teaching and learning issues	129
7. Researching and teaching academic writing	132
A social approach to researching texts	132
A methodology for studying academic texts	136
Sources and analysis of data	138
Disciplines, texts and teaching	144
Moving on: some directions for research	150
8. Power, authority and discourse change	155
Analysing discourse and power	155
The ideological power of academic discourses	159
The economic power of academic discourses	164
The authority of discourses in disciplinary practices	167
Writer variations, social shifts and discourse change	172
Endwords	176
Appendix 1: Corpora	179
Appendix 2: Items expressing doubt and certainty investigated	188
Appendix 3: Metadiscourse items investigated	190
References	194
Subject Index	208
Author Index	210