CONTENTS

List of figures viii
List of tables ix
List of contributors x

1 Faces of English language research and teaching 1
   Ken Hyland and Lillian L. C. Wong

PART I
Students: identity, motivation, and learning 11

2 Identity and English language learners across global sites 13
   Bonny Norton

3 What influences performance? Personal style or the task being done? 28
   Peter Skehan and Sabrina Shum

4 Incorporating reflective writing to promote language development and identity awareness 44
   Rebecca Toner and Rachel Chaffin

5 Exploring the motivational development and academic choices of local and international English majors in China 57
   Aaron Doyle
PART II
Teaching: classroom pedagogies and practices 73

6 Teaching as input
   Rod Ellis
   75

7 The production-oriented approach: a pedagogical innovation in university English teaching in China
   Wen Qiufang
   91

8 Do-it-yourself corpora in the EAP classroom: views of students and teachers
   Maggie Charles
   107

9 Popular culture as content-based instruction in the second language classroom to enhance critical engagement
   Anne Peirson-Smith
   124

PART III
Learning: activities beyond the classroom 141

10 Language learning beyond the classroom
   David Nunan
   143

11 ESP project work: the collaborative processes involved in students’ learning experiences
   Christoph A. Hafner and Lindsay Miller
   159

12 Participants’ engagement in and perceptions of English language MOOCs
   Sean McMinn
   176

13 Social learning analytics in online language learning: challenges and future directions
   Michael Thomas, Hayo Reinders, and Anouk Gelan
   197

PART IV
Teachers: education and professional development 213

14 Going online: affordances and limitations for teachers and teacher educators
   Denise E. Murray and MaryAnn Christison
   215
15 Examining the discourse of language teacher supervision: the learning experiences of two supervisor trainees
   Anita Krishnan, Courtney Pahl, and Kathleen M. Bailey 231

16 The personal and professional development of novice English teachers working in South Korea
   Laura Taylor 245

17 Preparing teachers for the challenges of constructivist teaching
   Vincent Greenier 260

Index 275